A letter from the Interstate Commerce Commission was received recentstating that while that body had no legal authority to adjust the rates of water carriers, it would use its moral influence and endenvor to point out ways of bridging about more equitable The letter suggested that detail information regarding the commo-dities shipped and the amounts be furnished the commission.

Committee Will Investigate At the meeting held yesterday a com mittee was appointed to make the necessary researches and file a report that will be sent on to the national commission in Washington. This committee is composed of Ed. Towse, chair was: E. A. Berndt and Raymond C.

Brown. It was brought out at the meeting that freight from eastern points in the United States could be shipped to Jaon and China at a lower freight to Honolulu. E. A. Berndt, a member of the committee, went into a complete discussion of the freight rates and showed that no lower rates could be obtained until some agreement could be reached with the steamship companies. The difficulty, he said, was not its the railroads but with the sen carriers.

Another point brought out by Mr. Berndt was that lower rates could be obtained only when shipments from various points in the States are con centrated at one point and forwarded in heavy shipments. The committee appointed will make an effort to reach me agreement among the importers in this city to establish such a concent ration point for the shipment of freight to Honolula.

No Intention To Discriminate

Secretary Brown teld the meeting that the publicity given the subject of fleight rates in The Advertiser had resulted in representatives of both the Southern Pacific and the Santa Pe calling on the chumber of commerce to assare that body that the railroads had the latter in the hammock lockers. no intention of discriminating against thousand that they were prepared the to do any reasonable thing to eliminate may apparent is justice.
